

Lafe Haythorn

My Dear Mrs Chapman

I feel much obliged to you for your kind services in fulfilling the commissions which you were kind enough ~~to~~ to allow me to trouble you with but I am sorry to mention that one pair of boots is missing there being in the parcel but one pair. I am sorry also to say that the crabs mentioned in the bill were not in the parcel. We inquired of the Capt. thinking they might have been left on board but he told us that all had come to shore by some mischance ~~or~~ doubt they have been forgotten. I am sorry to be so troublesome but if you could make inquiry about them I should feel greatly obliged.

I was much pleased with the nursing apron thinking it might be of great use to me but after the short space of an hour or two I was obliged to give it up for it gave way in several places and would soon have been all to pieces for the least use the child made in my Cup made a fresh vent

We felt happy to hear that on your arrival you found all well. We hope Mr Chapman will retain the little improvement of health which he experienced here. The Capt. that brought me the parcel lost his Brother soon after his arrival here a young man of about Eighteen

We rejoice with ^{you} in the success of the cause which lays near your heart. May it prosper more and more "till all the Nations see that Man should breathe him be & from me. Surely the wide world will

Mr B wishes to make a few remarks and I must therefore for the present bid you Adieu

Wishing you every blessing
I remain very Dear Mrs Chapman
Yours truly
S. Bird
